

MAJOR AND MINOR.

A. J. Goodrich will assume the editorial chair of Brainard's Musical World, vacated by the death of Carl Merz.

Mrs. H. S. Praetorius, who is in New York pursuing her studies, will appear in several prominent concerts there before long under flattering auspices.

Gladstone.—Mr. Gladstone's new daughter-in-law, Mrs. Henry Gladstone, is not only young and handsome, but accomplished in music and languages. She is an admirable performer on the violin. She is a small brunette, with a smiling face, and is a clever talker.

Quail on toast, at Milford's.

Strauss.—Johann Strauss, the great waltz writer, told an interviewer the remarkable fact that, though the family had been writing dance music for three generations, not one of them could dance a step, and if he himself were put on the floor he would "cut a shocking figure."

Fano.—The baritone, Davide Squarcia, recently deceased, bequeathed 100,000 francs ($20,000), to the Home for Aged Men at Loretto. Squarcia was very popular on the operatic stage twenty-five years ago. His Guglielmo Tell was his most successful role, and it is said has never been equaled since he retired from the stage.

Hard Work for Little Pay.—Fiddling and drumming, or sawing the big bass viol may not look like hard work when viewed from a comfortable balcony chair, but it is hard work, monotonous as well, and exacting. If every orchestra player got his regular price he would only get a fair return for the time and money required to learn his profession. All ordinary vocations are closed to the orchestra player. His rehearsals on Mondays, his matinees on Wednesdays and Saturdays prevents his getting employment in an office or a store, and consequently all he can do is to devote himself to composing, arranging or writing music or teaching. And any one who knows the hardships attending these callings, especially when the aspirant is poor and unknown, will not envy his lot. Most orchestra players live on their earnings as players, and when the summer season comes they go out of town to watering places, or find employment in local picnic bands, or they go hungry, as luck may direct. For luck and not hard work or skill seems to direct the hiring of such hands.

PERFECT MUSIC BOOKS

for CHOIRS, for CLASSES, for CONVENTIONS, are perhaps impossible—but DITSON & CO.'S matchless books are just on the line.

Emerson's Easy Anthems, (80 cts., $7.20 per dozen), are 49 in number—quite new—give about one for each Sunday in the year, and are full of grace and beauty.

Song Harmony, (60 cts., $6 per dozen) by L. O. Emerson, is a new and very "perfect" book for SINGING CLASSES, perhaps the best of a long series of books by the same author.

The Graded Singing School, (50 cts., $4.50 per dozen), by D. F. Hodges, is a sensible, practical method, by a very sensible, practical teacher and is fully furnished with good material for successful work.

Jehovah's Praise, ($1. or $9 per dozen) by L. O. Emerson, is a full size Church Music Book, with a large number of Anthems and Tunes for choirs, also Glee, Part-Songs, and a multitude of melodious exercises for classes.

Temple Chimes, (35 cts., $3.60 per dozen) by EVANGELIST LUTHER, just published, is a very superior collection of new Gospel Songs, of Hymns and Tunes.

Praise in Song, (40 cts., $4.20 per dozen) by L. O. and E. U. Emerson, is a new Sunday School and Praise book, full of uncommonly good music and hymns. A very "perfect" book for vestry singing.

THE EASTER OPERA FESTIVAL.

THE Easter Holiday Grand Opera Festival will be by far the most important musical affair of the year. Fully three hundred people will be engaged in giving the Operas announced for the week by the Emma Juch Opera Company and the force of auxiliaries secured. The Orpheus Sængerbund, one of the most prominent singing societies of this city, has agreed to take part in the Festival, which will be a guarantee that the grand choruses will be all that could be asked for. The Orchestra will be a large one, composed of about sixty solo instrumentalists, under the baton of Adolph Neuendorf, while the stage will be in charge of Emil Hahn, who has superintended the most elaborate productions of Grand Opera in Europe and who came to this country to take charge of the stage of the Juch organization for this present season. The repertoire selected by the management for this Festival will include Faust, Carmen, Mignon, William Tell, Trovatore, Rigoletto, and The Freischütz. The latter may be considered a musical novelty, as this production of it will be the first ever given here in English. Miss Juch will sing every performance, except those of Tuesday evening and Saturday afternoon, when Georgini Von Januschowsky will assume the roles requiring the soprano voice.

The mounting and costuming of the Operas will be very elaborate, as the management has the entire plant of the American Opera Company at their disposal, which enables them to present these great music dramas in a most complete, as well as a historically correct manner. Arrangements have been made with the leading florist to decorate the foyer and lobbies of the Exposition building during this engagement, and the lounges and promenades of the great building will undoubtedly present a very beautiful appearance when brilliantly lighted and artistically decorated with growing plants, palms and evergreens, making a very appropriate Easter floral display.

Our leading musical and society people are taking a great interest in this season of Grand Opera, coming, as it does, after the close of the Lenten season, and the modistes and milliners are having a veritable boom with the orders for attractive toilets to be ready by Easter Monday.

The advance sale of seats will commence at Bollman Brothers Company, Monday, March 31st, and the scale of prices will range from 50c. to $1.50 for reserved seats, according to location.

The organization of the Emma Juch Grand English Opera Company has been called by the Eastern press the most ambitious attempt at Grand Opera in the vernacular of our times, and we are inclined to think that the Eastern press is correct, for the reason that the Juch Company is, without doubt, the largest private enterprise in the Operatic field, and is in the hands of the most careful and experienced management now handling Grand Opera—a management that has had the advantage of touring the country with the American and National companies, and is enabled to profit by the mistakes made in the conducting of those enterprises.

A Grand Opera Company, to be successful, must contain all the elements of success, viz.: a strong, carefully selected list of principals; a perfect orchestra, under the baton of an experienced conductor; and a well drilled chorus, composed of young, fresh voices. To these must be added a complete plant of scenery, costumes and properties, and last, but most important, a strong repertoire—this last being the most difficult to obtain, as it can only be had by a long and careful system of rehearsals and study under the watchful eye of a director who knows Opera from the most trifling incident to the most important ensemble. A good repertoire, with the members "well up" in every detail, can only be obtained by a company being composed of the right sort of material. There must be no drones in the hive. Every member of a successful organization must have ambition both personal and for the collective success of the company of which he or she is a member in fact in all things pertaining to the entertainments of all Opera Companies, the company must be a unit. In order for any large musical organization to do its best work confidence and respect in and for the management accompanied by a knowledge of the superior talents of the stars are absolutely necessary. The faults of the American and National Opera Companies have no place in the Juch Organization. The feeling shown by each individual member of this company is evidently that the success of the whole is in the hands of the individual and the individual being thus responsible for the whole, works to and thus secures that success by a heart interest in every thing that will advance the interests of the concern. The full confidence Miss Juch has in her own ability as an artist and in the ability of her managers to guide the great concern of which she is the head, is contagious and doubtlessly inspires the other members of the company. Musical Director Neuendorf has long been known as one of the strictest as well as just conductors in the musical profession, under his baton the solo instrumentalists composing his Orchestra grow to know that excellence is the only escape from repeated rehearsals and the desire to have the orchestra considered one of the most prominent features of the entertainments, combined with ambition and duty, has caused the members of the Juch Orchestra to fuse into a whole that will compare favorably with any orchestra of the same size in the world. Each member of the Juch chorus sees the success of such artists as Tagliapietra, Vetta Hedmont, Janus-chowsky, McNichol, Leonhardt and others, and looks forward to occupying the same place in the near future and by application and becoming proficient hopes to be considered for minor roles when a new opera is cast or a principal is unable to appear.

The chorus master is proud of his department, the electrician, machinist, property and wardrobe masters delight in the perfect manner in which their portions of the entertainments are handled and it is the boast of the master of transportation that his train is always ready to be pulled out of the yard at least a quarter of an hour before the advertised time. The staff of agents are all old hands at the wheel, and know how and where to strike to score a point for the concern they represent, while the Director is a veteran in the role and one who has often astonished the public by the magnitude of his enterprises.

Truly, the Juch season is an ambitious one and it speaks volumes for the management, to say that the leading musical journals have given them the credit of having brought a new organization to a degree of excellence only expected from a company that has been in existence for years. The New York World says: "The Juch company is the largest and most important amusement organization travelling," and The Washington Star says that "The performances of Grand Opera in English given by the Juch company should be a matter of National Pride" a company that was organized less than one year ago and can command such praise from such sources must be all that the public has a right to ask and more than they could, guided by past experience, reasonably expect.

MISS JUCH IN CARMEN.

[From the Portland Oregonian.]

Those who failed to attend the second performance of the Emma Juch Company, last night, it can only be said that they missed a rare treat. Bizet's opera, "Carmen," was the bill, with Miss Juch in the title role, and she deepened and intensified the favorable impression created on the first night. Indeed, the entire opera—solo numbers, choruses and ensembles—was rendered in a manner to bring out, at their best, the capabilities of the entire company.

It was the first time the opera has ever been given in Portland, and the story of the impetuous gipsy girl, with her saucy piquancy and coquetry, her inconstancy and yet her fidelity to her own nature, was told in a way that, musically, almost defies criticism. The music is of that taking, melodious character, although in places exceedingly difficult, which lingers in the memory and sends one away from the performance with a feeling of satisfaction, and in the hands of Miss Juch the central figure, the gipsy coquette, receives such consistent, such thoroughly artistic, and yet such delicate and womanly treatment throughout, that one cannot but admire the courage of the little prima donna, who, in the face of adverse criticism backed by precedent, has had the bravery to carry out her own conception of the role. Hitherto, those who have essayed the role, for the most part, have made Carmen a wanton, accentuating all that was repulsive and degraded and ignoble in her nature; while Miss Juch portrays her as the fiery creature of emotion and impulse, full of contrasting qualities, now fickle, now constant, and yet with a gleam of true womanhood shining through her nature. Had she been all bad, she would have met an easier end. In her conception of the character, Miss Juch illustrates her own finer nature, and does credit to her artistic instincts.

Of her execution, vocally and dramatically, it is impossible to speak otherwise than in terms of unqualified praise. From the moment she darts in with a sprig of acacia between her lips and dressed in gaudy attire, and with archness and coquettish smile sings "Ah, then Beware!" until she lies lifeless, slain by Jose's stiletto. In soft, seductive tones, coaxing and tantalizing in their very melody, she ripples through this initial number, and as she skips quickly from the stage, after having shot a glance of witchery at Jose, a burst of applause follows her. Her castinet song and dance in the second act was a most charming and graceful piece of work. Her voice rang out clear and sweet in the gay refrain, and she was a picture of careless southern abandon in the sinuous movement of her form.

Nothing could have been more true to her admirable conception than her singing and acting in the second act in the scene with Jose. Pettishness, jealousy, love, all had their illustration in voice, action and looks. So, too, in the song wherein she tells her fortune in the third act, there was an intensity of dramatic expression and a wonderful depth of feeling in every tone she uttered. In fact, lack of space forbids dwelling in detail upon all the fine points of realism and dramatic force displayed by her throughout her splendid interpretation of the part. She was artistic in every scene is the highest praise that can be given her.

Georgini von Januschowsky's rendition of the comparatively unexciting role of Michaels was a pleasing introduction of a most admirable singer. * * * Tagliapietra's Toreador was a picturesque and very satisfactory performance, and he received a hearty encore on his Toreador song. * * * Mr. Hedmont appeared to much better advantage than he did in Faust. * * * Lizzie MacNichol and Susie Leonhart, in the minor roles of Mercedes and Frasquita, E. N. Knight as Zuniga, and the remaining members of the cast, acquitted themselves creditably. * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kunkel's China Wedding.

[From Post-Dispatch.]

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kunkel celebrated their China wedding on the 15th ult., when their magnificent residence on West Pine street, No. 3823, was thrown open to their friends for the first time. About three hundred invitations had been issued. The guests began to arrive at eight o'clock, and from that hour till early next morning the scene was one of rare enjoyment and festivity.

The house is situated upon a terrace, being approached by a flight of seven broad marble and granite steps, another flight of eight giving entrance to the oak-paneled Queen Anne hall. It is a beau ideal of comfort and taste, and has one of the best modeled interiors to be found.

The grand staircase, about which columns have been written in the daily press, was a much longed for sight. With its wealth of artistically carved wood pictures, it is probably the most wonderful in the world—certainly no staircase of the kind has ever been heard of before, and is due to the charming fancy of Mrs. Charles Kunkel, who, with Mr. J. A. Kieselhorst, conceived and carried out the plan.

The beautiful and costly presents of fine china and bric-a-brac that loaded tables were almost lost sight of in the magnificence of the staircase. It was contributed to by the most eminent musicians and great piano manufacturers in the New and the Old World, and is a marvel of beauty and artistic work.

It runs transversely across the hall, and is illuminated with a beautiful stained glass window. In the centre of each balustrade is set a tablet, on which is carved some musical subject, according to the choice of the donor. There are about seventy eight such tablets, costing from fifty to two hundred dollars each. The newel-post and side work of the staircase contain large panels. A faint idea may be formed of the charm of the scene when it is stated that the carving on these tablets and panels is artistic in the highest degree, and exacted as much care and time as any painting.

In the center of the group is a tablet from Mrs. Kunkel, carved in cherry, representing the garden scene from "Faust" in two pictures—Faust and Marguerite on the right, and Mephisto and Martha on the left. The first opera ever attended by Mrs. Kunkel was "Faust," and Mr. Kunkel was her happy escort upon that occasion.

P. S. Gilmore gave a very large and wonderfully carved tablet, also in cherry, the motto "Alpine Storm," in compliment to Mr. Kunkel's musical work of which that is the subject. It is an Alpine scene—a shepherd playing upon an oboe, sheep grazing on the mount, approach of storm in the distance.

One of the largest and most beautiful of the panels is from Ernest R. Kroeger. It is also of cherry, and upon it is carved "Lorelei" floating upon the waters, playing her harp.

The smaller panels are 6x4 inches in size, and 1 1/2 inches thick. Upon one side is carved the monogram of the donor, and on the other side some appropriate scene. As not more than half of them could be used in the stairway proper, the remainder were split in two and form a superb finish to the wainscoting of the hall, the monogram and motto placed alongside of each other, divided only by a narrow beading of the oak, the contrasts, in the different woods used, being very effective. In this connection will be found the monograms of the following persons: Carlyle Petersilea, Steinway & Sons, Chickering & Sons, Decker Bros., Ernest Knabe, Kranich & Bach, Farrand & Votey, Conover Bros., Sohmer & Co., C. C. Briggs & Co., Newby & Evans, Alfred Doige, Wm. Mason, A. P. Scheuermann, Emil Liebling, W. M. Blumenschein, Louis Ballenberg, Julia Rive-King, H. G. Andres, Miss Neally Stevens, Emerson Piano Co., Dr. F. Ziegfeld, Henry F. Miller & Sons, C. T. Sisson, L. E. Levasser, Decker & Sons, Madame L. Natalie, Burdett Organ Co., George D. Newhall, Hamlet Lee, J. W. Currier, Kroeger & Sons, Hallett & Davis, L. Mathias, Estey Organ Co., Franz Bausemer, Epstein Bros., Wm. Bechtold, J. A. W. Fernow, A. Waldauer, A. W. Hoffman, Victor Ehling, Geo. Dittman, Ed W. Read, Bollman Bros., George Kilgen, O. A. Field, Edward Nennstiel, I. D. Foulon, T. Bahnsen, H. J. Schonaker, M. M. B. A. Association, John A. Robinson, Dr. L. Maas, Miss Kate V. King, F. W. Schultze, Dr. Wm. F. Kier, John A. Kieselhorst, P. Thonssen, Thomas M. Hyland, August F. Reipschlaeger, Franz Rummel, E. C. Janssen, Ella Kunkel, Beethoven Kunkel, Adele Kieselhorst and Mrs. M. Hubert. From these tablets may be selected a few of special interest. Madame Julia Rive-King's tablet has a group of instruments—harp, mandolin, etc., encircling a picture of which the "Alpine Storm" is the subject; enameled painting on California red wood.

Franz Rummel, of Berlin, sent a magnificent panel of French oak, the motto—"So gruss ich die Burg" (So greet I the castle)—giving the theme of the herald in the "Rhinegold," the monogram surrounded by oak and laurel leaves.

A. Dolge's contribution is a wonderfully carved tablet, representing a group of instruments and masks, emblematic of art and literature. This is one of the most artistic bits of work.

Wm. Schultz, saxophone player of Gilmore's Orchestra, is represented by a cherry tablet, exquisitely carved. Motto: Laurel leaves entwining a saxophone.

Emil Liebling sent a finely carved panel, on mahogany, taken from a celebrated chateau in France, motto comical, a fox playing on a flute, wearing on his head a cap stolen from a minstrel.

The Estey Organ Co. sent a superb panel, carved on Brazilian mahogany a hundred years old. The subject is a monk seated at the organ, his face glowing with inspiration as he pours forth his soul in melody.

CHARLES KUNKEL'S NEW RESIDENCE.

Ernest Knabe has a carved panel upon a richly colored piece of mahogany; a group of musical instruments is presented as the subject.

Kroeger & Sons have added to the collection a handsome panel, on a bit of mahogany sent from San Domingo for the purpose. Cupid is here represented announcing his coming by a trumpet, the design encircled by laurel and oak leaves.

Conover Bros. have contributed one of the most interesting panels of the series. It is of oak, black with age. It is a comic sketch, a monkey seated with a cat across his knees. With his tail he is beating a drum suspended above his head, meanwhile turning the cat's tail as if it were the handle of a hand organ. The cat's expression is of howling despair, while the monkey is perfectly oblivious.

The Musicians' Mutual Benefit Association is represented by a carved panel, a group of musical instruments, emblematic of the divine art, occupying one side of the tablet, with the monogram of the society on the other side.

H. G. Andres has sent a very good bit of work. Subject, "Cupid in a Gondola;" motto, "Success."

Chickering & Sons have an enameled tablet representing a group of musical instruments, mandolin, flute, tambourine, etc. I. D. Foulon, a carved tablet representing a tambourine girl, surrounded by laurel and oak leaves.

Dr. W. F. Kier, a panel with a boy and girl playing the flute and guitar, surrounded by flowers.

Louis E. Lavasser presents a tablet carved in laurel leaves and flowers, entwining a theme of one of Mr. Kunkel's compositions, "Morning in the Woods."

Louis Ballenberg, a carved panel, motto, "Silent Quartette," phantom flowers, intertwined with laurel and oak leaves.

Bollman Bros., a rich carving representing a drum major, the margin finished with a wreath of oak and laurel leaves.

Steinway & Sons presented a tablet of Brazilian cherry. A group of musical instruments surrounded by laurel and oak leaves.

J. A. Kieselhorst's tablet is the most original of all—representing Kunkel's Royal Edition; it is hollow and opens by a sliding lid. On the outside is the legend, "Kunkel's Royal Edition," and a beautiful carving of a four-leaf clover—emblematic of success. Upon the lifting of the lid is discovered in succession three leaves, bearing each a picture of one of Mr. Kunkel's three children, according to age; the fourth leaf being left blank and marked "appendix." It is a happy play upon the Royal Edition, and shows Mr. Kieselhorst in his true vein of originality.

The other tablets are all as happily designed and executed and under the brilliant electric lights which are placed at every point best calculated to illuminate the work, the effect was beautiful and each separate piece was critically examined and admired by the throngs of music worshippers. Not the least interesting features of the whole affair are the charming letters which accompany the tablets. The idea seems to have been received with great enthusiasm.

Hamlet Lee writes: "Your plan seemed to me a very original and pretty conceit, and suggests many artistic possibilities. I feel gratified and honored that you have remembered me in connection with it. Some of the most cherished memories of my life are associated with Charles and Jacob."

Mme. Louise Natalie writes of the happiness it affords her to contribute to the carrying out of so happy an idea, and thanking Mrs. Kunkel for remembering her.

Carlyle Patersilea writes: "I am extremely proud to be remembered among your husband's friends."

Miss Gilmore writes a charming letter for her father, being his "private secretary upon a weekly salary," as she states, with great naivete. She says: "Papa bids me say to you, that your kind request does him much honor, and that he will take much pleasure in contributing to the stair-case. Your idea is a beautiful one, and I hope that the possession of such a unique stair-case will inspire you with strength to mount it more frequently than your somewhat delicate health has hitherto permitted."

William T. Miller writes: "It seems to us that the whole idea is one of the best we have ever known of, and Mr. Kunkel is to be congratulated on being the recipient of it, as well as of having a wife capable of successfully accomplishing it."

Madame Julia Kive King writes that she would have felt slighted if she had not been permitted to place a tablet in that wonderful stair case.

Neally Stevens writes of the pleasure it affords her to contribute to the novel and original design.

C. T. Sisson, of Chicago, writes of his pleasure in co-operating with Mrs. K. in her design, and pleasantly adds: "I wish that my circumstances were such that I could furnish a block of gold, set in diamonds, for there is no man I would rather see 'climbing the golden stairs' than my old friend—while a dweller below. He is sure to climb them in the next world and be a leaders in the Heavenly Orchestra."

W. L. Blumenschein writes: "I feel honored by your request to contribute to the unique and beautiful surprise you are preparing for your husband."

The guests were royally entertained by Mrs. Charles Kunkel and Mrs. Jacob Kunkel, sister-in-law of the host, both beautiful and charming women in the prime of life, while the host, Mr. Charles Kunkel, smiled benignly upon his old friends, and felt that these latter days should be days of enjoyment and home.

The plans of the house as shown above were drawn by the well known architect, E. C. Janssen. He was ably seconded in his work by Peter Thompson, builder.

The Best Remedy Taken in Season,

FOR Sore Eyes, Cancerous Humors, Prurigo, and other manifestations of depraved blood, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Used persistently, according to directions, it effectually eradicates all traces of disease, and restores the sufferer to a sound and healthy condition.

"I hereby certify that I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with excellent success, for a cancerous humor, or, as it seemed to be, cancer on my lip. Shortly after using this remedy the sore healed. I believe that the disease is entirely cured, and consider Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an infallible remedy for all kinds of eruptions caused by impure blood."—Charles G. Ernberg, Vasa, Minn.

"For years my blood was in an unhealthy condition. After having tried other medicines without success, I have lately taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and with the best results. I think this medicine is the only blood-purifier that can be absolutely relied upon."—Mrs. Oliver Valentine, 144 Quincy st., Brooklyn, New York.

"A neighbor of ours who was rendered nearly blind from scrofula, was entirely cured by using three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Stephens & Best, Druggists, Ball Play, Tenn.

"For several years afflicted with disorders of the blood, I have received more benefit from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla arrests blood-poisoning before it pervades the system. Don't delay till the forces of nature are exhausted and there is nothing to work on. Begin at once the use of this medicine, and be sure you take no other to counteract its effects.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured me of a bad case of blood-poisoning and restored me to health. My system was saturated with a poison which all ordinary remedies failed to reach, but Ayer's Sarsaparilla did the work completely. This was twenty-one years ago, and no symptoms of the disease have since appeared. I have recommended this wonderful medicine to hundreds of people, similarly afflicted, and always with the most satisfactory results."—A. H. Christy, Bourbon, Ind.

"For many years I was troubled with scrofulous complaints. Hearing Ayer's Sarsaparilla very highly recommended, I decided to try it, and have done so with the most gratifying effects. I am convinced that Ayer's Sar-

DR. HANS VON BULOW.

Dr. Hans von Bülow, the foremost pianist of the Nineteenth Century, will give one grand Piano Recital in St. Louis, at the large Musical Hall in the Exposition Building, on the evening of April 23d 1890.

He will appear in but twenty concerts in the United States, and his engagements in other cities will make it impossible for him to give more than one concert in St. Louis.

Taking the fact into consideration that Dr. Hans von Bülow is to-day the greatest interpreter, the apostle of piano-playing, one whom all pianists throughout the world, from the humblest amateur to Rubinstein look up to, it is at once apparent that this Piano Recital will be a musical event in the history of music in St. Louis for generations to come. The musical public is therefore given this seasonable notice, in order that no other engagements may conflict with the date of the Bülow Concert, April 23d, 1890.

Otten Symphony Concert.

The last of these excellent symphony concerts was given on the 20th ult., and presented the following programme, that was a fitting close to the series:

PROGRAMME.

- I. Third Symphony (Eroica).....Beethoven
(a) Allegro con brío. (b) Marcia faebre—Adagio Assai. (c) Scherzo Allegro Vivace. (d) Finale Allegro Molto.
- ORCHESTRA.
- II. Prize Song, from "Meistersinger".....Wagner
Mr. Whitney Mockridge and orchestra.
- III. Vorspiel to the opera Lohengrin.....Wagner
ORCHESTRA.
- IV. Songs with the Piano.
(a) Hedge Roses.....Schubert
(b) Proposal.....Brackett
(c) Ihr Bild (Her Image).....Raff
Mr. Whitney Mockridge.
- V. Song of the Rhine-Daughters, from "Götterdämmerung".....Wagner

The following notice was sent out:
The great interest manifested in this series of Symphony Concerts, has induced Mr. Otten to continue them next season. Friends of the enterprise have come promptly forward with valuable assistance, and arrangements have progressed so far that the management are able to announce a series of Symphony Concerts for next season under the direction of Mr. Joseph Otten. Eminent soloists will be engaged, and nothing left undone that will make the concerts an artistic success.

Messrs. Andres and Doerner in Pianoforte Duets.

The first appearance in this city of Messrs. Armin W. Doerner and Henry C. Andres, the pianoforte duet players of Cincinnati, will be an interesting event to lovers of good piano playing. The particular line of concert work chosen by these two pianists, the playing of compositions and arrangements for two pianos, is one of which but little has been heard in public, and so a somewhat unusual interest attaches to this event, despite the ever-present supply of piano recitals by soloists. We will give a more extended notice of their concert work in our next issue.

Choral Society,

The third concert of the Choral Society was given at the Exposition Hall on the 6th ult., assisted by Mrs. Walter G. Wyman, soprano, Mr. Whitney Mockridge, tenor, Mr. W. M. Porteous, bass. The following programme was rendered:

PART I.

THE CRUSADERS.

PART II.

- I. Nocturne (words by Harriett Spofford).....P. G. Anton
Mr. W. M. Porteous and Orchestra.
- II. Celeste Aida (from Aida).....Verdi
Mr. Whitney Mockridge and Orchestra.
- III. Ave Verum.....Mozart
Chorus and String Orchestra.
- IV. Songs with Piano.
(a) Oh! that we two were Maying.....Eitelbert Nevin
(b) 'Twas April.....F. Von Wiedede
(c) Herzen's Fruehling.....Mrs. Walter C. Wyman.
- V. Overture, "In the Highlands".....Niel W. Gade Orchestra.

The soloists were well received and acquitted themselves very creditably—their work was conscientious and finished. The chorus did well, while the Symphony Orchestra was up to the excellent standard maintained in its own concerts.

Musical Union.

The Fourth Concert of the Musical Union was given on the 18th ult., at the Exposition Hall, and was not surpassed by any other concert of the series. The programme offered Miss Geneva E. Johnston and Miss Selma Krause as soloists. The orchestral numbers were Vorspiel to the opera "Folkunger," Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, and Handel's Largo, in G minor. These numbers were excellently rendered, and in the Fifth Symphony the orchestra had full sway and made the most of it. The work was well balanced and artistically done. Miss Geneva E. Johnston was well received and sustained her reputation for good work. Miss Selma Krause is one of our own gifted pianists and has achieved an enviable reputation as well throughout the States as at home. Her playing was purely artistic and drew both upon herself and her teacher, Mr. Marcus Epstein, the very highest credit. A true conception and masterly style characterized her work.

Easter Service at the Grand Avenue Presbyterian Church:

MORNING.

- "Pascale"—Organ.....Guilmant
"Christ our Passover"—Anthem.....Haydn

CITY NOTES.

Miss Nettie Strong gave a very successful recital at her music rooms, 2601 Washington avenue.

At Christ Church Cathedral will be rendered Stainer's Crucifixion—probably its first presentation in this country.

E. R. Kroeger played Bach's Fugue in C-minor in a Service of Song at the Church of the Messiah; it proved a special feature of the service.

The Vocal pupils of Miss Charlotte H. Hax-Rosatti will assist Mr. Louis Retter in a Pupil's Concert, to be given by him at Memorial Hall on the 17th inst.

C. H. Johnson, organist of the Pilgrim Congregational Church, is preparing a special Good Friday service. He has taken charge of the choir of the Hyde Park Congregational Church.

A Concert will be given at Trinity Church on the 16th inst. by E. R. Kroeger, assisted by Miss Adelaide Kalkman and Arthur D. Weld, of the Church of the Messiah, and the Olympia Quartet.

Miss Alice Pettengill played the accompaniments and the piano part in the Kruezer Sonata at Mrs. J. K. Brainard's recent concert. She was complimented in terms of very high praise by all present.

The Amphion Club will give a concert on the 10th inst. at Niedringhaus Memorial Hall, and will be assisted by Miss Adelaide Kalkman, soprano, and Arthur D. Weld, baritone, of the Church of the Messiah.

Mrs. K. J. Brainard is in receipt of a request from the musical people of Lexington for the K. J. B. Ladies' Quartette to assist them in a concert to be given there. The quartette is making friends everywhere.

Lillie Biskup, a little girl of eleven years, played at the College Entertainment given at the Pickwick Hall, and surprised the audience with her admirable piano playing; she is a pupil of Miss Maggie Hennagan.

Eugene Rantenberg, of 1020 Hickory street, will assist in the concerts of the Marquette Minstrels, on the 22d inst., and the Police Relief Entertainment. Mr. Rantenberg's orchestra furnishes first-class music for balls, parties, receptions, etc.

Louis Conrath, author of "Gondoliera," in the March Review, is a graduate of the Leipzig Conservatory, and a very talented young man. He has just issued "Victoria Gavotte," a very captivating piano solo that promises to have a good sale.

The Hatton Quartette sang at Belleville, and was showered with compliments; it was entertained in royal style. The same quartette was engaged at the Real Estate Banquet, and at the Tuscon Lodge Entertainment, and received a call from Springfield, Ill.

The Second Presbyterian Church celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the installation of Rev. S. J. Nicolls on the 4th ult. During the exercises musical selections were given by Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. Bollman, Miss Strong and Messrs. Hammerstein, Heerich, Dirkes and Cunningham.

Miss Maggie Hennagan, of 1205 North Grand avenue, was presented with a magnificent gold medal by the Young Ladies' Sodality, numbering one hundred and thirty-two members, of which she is the popular president. Miss Hennagan was organist at the Redemptionist Church during the illness of Prof. Dubuque.

The K. J. B. Ladies' Quartette sang with great success at the Hyde Park Church; the attendance was large and very appreciative and altogether won over by the charming quartette. It also sang, on the 27th ult. for the Y. M. C. A., and has been engaged for the 4th inst. by the Hygienic College for its commencement exercises at the Pickwick.

The Richard Wagner Verein of this city, has appointed Mr. Louis Hammerstein as pianist at their meetings. At the last meeting the Society took up the first act of "Siegfried." Mr. Seidenadel lectured upon the opera, and was assisted in musical illustrations by Messrs. Hammerstein, Hein and Wiederholdt. The Society has just finished "Rheingold," "Die Walkure," and will take up "Götterdämmerung" this month.

Genelli, of 923 Olive Street, makes 100 Stamp Photos, from cabinet size, for $1. Cabinet will be returned by mail, unsolled with stamps, on short notice. Mail Cabinet with $1.

The Mary Institute has been giving a series of Poet Days, monthly, and will give two more before vacation. Tennyson, Lowell and Wordsworth have already been heard, and Longfellow is in preparation. The music is composed for the occasion by local musicians. Messrs. Robyn, Balmer and Kroeger being among the contributors. These interesting days are due to the energy of Mrs. K. J. Brainard, the principal of the musical department.

If you want to buy a really fine silk umbrella or have one mended in first-class order, go to Namendorf Bros. If you want a stylish cane or anything in the way of presents go to Namendorf's, 314 N. Sixth street, bet. Olive and

Jules Massenet, the celebrated operatic composer, writes to Louis Lombard, the director of the Utica Conservatory of Music, as follows:

I love your great country; to it I owe my greatest theatrical success, Esclarmonde. I owe it to the unique, incomparable artist who has created the role; I owe it to an American, to Miss Sybil Sanderson, of San Francisco. On Thursday, took place in Paris the one hundredth performance of Esclarmonde, the one hundredth performance of Miss Sybil Sanderson, without one day of rest—the fact has never before existed. And what a role! This young girl has an extraordinary voice—G. in bass to G. in treble, two octaves, and it is not only the compass which is extraordinary, but the art of singing, the originality and the dramatic action.

You will pardon for speaking to a confrere who cannot but be interested in everything which is marvelous in our art.

My most vivid sympathies,
JULES MASSENET.

Manilla.—The Spanish government is about to found a music school in the capital of the Philippine Islands, which will have a salary list amounting to $23,000 per annum. The professors, eleven in number, receive $1,500 each, the director having $400 and the secretary $200 additional. The school is to be inaugurated in July next.

The reason that Genelli's photos are always the best is that he keeps the best and highest-salaried artists to be had for love or money. Studio, 923 Olive Street.

Ped. * Ped. *

Ped. * Ped.

First system of musical notation, measures 1-8. The music is in 3/4 time with a key signature of two flats. The right hand features intricate fingerings and slurs, while the left hand provides harmonic support. Pedal points are indicated below the bass staff at measures 1, 3, 5, 7, and 8, separated by asterisks. Dynamics include mf at the beginning and pp at measure 7.

Second system of musical notation, measures 9-16. Measures 9-12 continue the previous texture. At measure 13, the right hand has a rest and the left hand begins a new melodic line marked mf. Pedal points are indicated at measures 9, 13, and 15.

Third system of musical notation, measures 17-24. The right hand has a rest in measures 17-20, with the left hand playing a triplet. At measure 21, the right hand enters with a triplet marked rh. Pedal points are indicated at measures 17, 21, and 23.

Fourth system of musical notation, measures 25-32. The tempo/mood changes to grazioso at measure 27. The right hand features a triplet in measure 25. Pedal points are indicated at measures 29 and 32.

Fifth system of musical notation, measures 33-40. The right hand has a rest in measures 33-36, with the left hand playing a triplet. At measure 37, the right hand enters with a triplet marked p. Pedal points are indicated at measures 33, 37, and 40.

Sixth system of musical notation, measures 41-48. The right hand has a rest in measures 41-44, with the left hand playing a triplet. At measure 45, the right hand enters with a triplet. Pedal points are indicated at measures 41 and 45.

This page contains six systems of handwritten musical notation, likely for a piano. Each system consists of a treble staff and a bass staff. The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and slurs. Fingerings are indicated by numbers 1 through 5 above or below notes. Dynamics like pp (pianissimo) and f (forte) are present. The key signature is D major (two sharps). The piece concludes with a double bar line and a final cadence. The handwriting is in ink on aged paper.

First system of musical notation. The right hand features a series of chords with fingerings 5 2 1, 5 2 1, 4 2 1, and 4 2 1. The left hand has a melodic line with a mf dynamic marking. Pedal points are indicated by "Ped." and asterisks.

Second system of musical notation. The right hand continues with chords and fingerings. The left hand has a melodic line with a mf dynamic marking. Pedal points are indicated by "Ped." and asterisks.

Third system of musical notation. The right hand features a series of chords with fingerings 5 2 1, 5 2 1, 4 2 1, and 4 2 1. The left hand has a melodic line with a mf dynamic marking. Pedal points are indicated by "Ped." and asterisks.

Fourth system of musical notation. The right hand features a series of chords with fingerings 5 2 1, 5 2 1, 4 2 1, and 4 2 1. The left hand has a melodic line with a mf dynamic marking. Pedal points are indicated by "Ped." and asterisks.

Fifth system of musical notation. The right hand features a series of chords with fingerings 3 5 4 3, 5 4 3 2, 4 3 2 1, and 3 5 4 3. The left hand has a melodic line with a mf dynamic marking. Pedal points are indicated by "Ped." and asterisks.

The musical score consists of six systems of staves. The first system begins with a treble clef, a key signature of two flats, and a 3/4 time signature. It features a complex melodic line in the right hand with many slurs and fingerings, and a more rhythmic bass line. Dynamics include p and mf. Pedal markings are present throughout. The second system continues the melodic development. The third system introduces a right-hand section marked rh. and features a forte f dynamic. The fourth system shows a crescendo to ff and includes a section marked fp. The fifth system features a pp dynamic and a section marked p. The sixth system concludes with a p dynamic and a final cadence. The notation includes various musical symbols such as slurs, ties, and fingerings.

A. This A flat is tied through the next four measures. At B. the right hand strikes the A flat and releases the left hand.

LILY OF THE VALLEY.

(DIE LILIE DES THALES.)

S. Smith. Op. 14.

Moderato ♩ - 100.

The first system of the musical score is in 3/4 time, marked Moderato with a tempo of 100. It begins with a forte (ff) dynamic. The right hand plays a series of chords, while the left hand plays a continuous eighth-note accompaniment. Pedal points are indicated below the left hand. The system concludes with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

The second system continues the piece and includes a cadenza. It features a forte (f) dynamic. The right hand has a melodic line with grace notes and fingerings, while the left hand provides a steady accompaniment. A large slur covers the cadenza section. Pedal points are marked below the left hand.

(ABSCHIED DER SCHWALBEN)

DUET.

F. Kuecken.

Allegretto. ♩ - 88.

The piano introduction is in 2/4 time, marked 'Allegretto' with a tempo of 88 beats per minute. It features a treble and bass staff. The treble staff begins with a 'scherzando' marking and contains several triplet and sixteenth-note passages. The bass staff provides a simple harmonic accompaniment. The piece concludes with a final chord in the right hand.

This section contains the first two lines of the duet. The vocal parts (Soprano and Alto) enter with the English lyrics. The piano accompaniment continues with a steady rhythm. The lyrics are:

1. The swal-lows, yes, the swal-lows With shep-herds love to stay, The

MAJOR AND MINOR.

Tamagno.—It is said that Tamagno, the great tenor, who gets $100,000 for fifty performances, and has other valuable perquisites, including eight seats every night he sings, has a brother who sings in the chorus for the affluent income of $17 per week. The brothers do not travel together, neither do they have any associations, save when the stage business demands.

How They Get Along.

The hotel clerk is entertainingly quoted as follow: "Actresses get more for their money than any other class of people who stop at a hotel. See that woman just coming out of the dining-room? She's an opera singer. You notice she has two big newspapers under her arm. Takes the same papers in the dining-room every day. Never reads them. She has a room on the European plan, and orders only one meal a day. But what a big meal that is! Then she slips a sandwich and some cake into those big newspapers. In her hand she takes an orange. That constitutes her luncheon.

"About breakfast? Well she is clever. Has the funniest arrangement for making tea and toast in her room you ever saw. It's a miniature gas stove, no bigger than a baseball. Hitches a rubber tube to the gas jet, puts a piece of bread and a pot of tea on the little stove, and in a jiffy her breakfast is ready. You know you can't toast bread over a gas jet so that invention is her own.

"Then again she gets the best of us on fires. She has another little gas stove, or heater, rather. Lights gas, puts a shawl over the transom so that the light can't be seen by the watchman, then gets warm. She was here a month last season before we found out why the gas meter was so gay.

"Say, but that manager is growing stout! Just heard him say he gained five pounds last week. See here, Cashier, charge up No. 47 with an extra meal. Got to get even some way. Tell you what it is, there's nobody like a theatrical person for devising schemes for getting things without paying for them. They think it's smart, too. Boast about it among themselves—seem to think it a most creditable thing!"

KUNKEL BROTHERS,

Publishers Kunkel's Musical Review.

It is a matter of wisdom to see Genelli's $1 50 Cabinet Photos, before wasting your money at cheap galleries. It will pay also to inspect all of the higher grades, ranging up to $7.

Tschaikowsky is a tall man, very handsome, with a grey beard. He is a familiar figure in Leipzig, where his best works are first produced. His full name is Peter Illitsch Tschaikowsky. He did not adopt the profession of music until after he had fitted for that of law, and had accepted a post at St Petersburg in the Ministry of Justice. When Anton Rubinstein founded the National Conservatory of Music at St. Petersburg, in 1862, Tschaikowsky entered its classes, studying harmony and counterpart under Zaremba, and composition under Rubinstein. In 1866, Nicholas Rubinstein established the new Conservatory of Music at Moscow, and invited Tschaikowsky to a professorship, which he held for twelve years.

A curious and somewhat unique action is pending just now in a Dresden Court of Justice, wherein the plaintiff seeks to recover damage to the amount of £325 from a well reputed local singing-master for wrong treatment of his voice. The professor, it appears, considered his pupil's voice to be a baritone, and consequently aimed at the development of the upper notes. After a prolonged course of study, his pupil made application at several lyrical establishments for an engagement, but was refused on the ground that he was not a baritone, but a genuine bass, and that instead of forcing his upper notes, he should have cultivated his vocal organ in the opposite direction. The pseudo-baritone feels naturally aggrieved at the loss of time incurred and at the prospect of having to begin his training over again, and hence these proceedings. The matter has been submitted to several experts one of whom is Dr. Wüllner, of the Cologne Conservatorium.

Oysters in every style, at Milford's.

PLANTS IN THE MUSIC ROOM.

As Long as They Thrive There the Piano is All Right.

"It's a popular notion that pianos ought to be kept very dry," said a well-known piano manufacturer. "Nothing could be more fallacious. Pianos are not nearly so much affected by heat or cold as they are by dryness, and reversely by dampness. It is not generally known that the sounding-board, the life of a piano, is forced into a case when it is made so tightly that it bulges up in the centre, on the same principle as a violin.

The wood is supposed to be as dry as possible, but of course it contains some moisture, and gathers more on damp days and in handling. Now, when a piano is put into an over-heated dry room, all this moisture is dried out, and the board loses its shape and gets flabby and cracks. Even if it doesn't crack, the tone loses its resonance and grows thin and tinny, the felt cloth and leather used in the action dry up, and the whole machine rattles."

"How will you prevent this?"
"Keep a growing plant in your room, and so long as your plant thrives your piano ought to, or else there is something the matter with it. It should be noted how much more water will have to be poured into the flower-pot in the room where the piano is than in any other room.

Genelli keeps the finest artists in free-hand pastel and oil work in the city, and makes life-size portraits for prices ranging from $5 to $100.

Madrid.—Emma Nevada was enthusiastically received in "La Sonnambula" at the Royal Opera House; she has not recovered as yet from the effects of her recent illness, and during the performance of the final rondo she fainted on the stage and the performance was necessarily suspended.

Some Good Salaries.—The orchestra of the Metropolitan Opera House consists of about fifty players who receive from $30 to $50 a week for playing four nights a week. Theirs is a profession of itself, and differs as much from ordinary orchestral playing as etching does from whitewashing.

The members of Thomas' Orchestra and Gilmore's Band get from $7 to $20 a performance, depending on their skill, and $2.50 to $7 for a rehearsal. Of course the higher prices are paid out to the great soloists. These are the best paid orchestra players in America, and the chief beauty of their work is, that while these two organizations pay them a fair living they have so much time at their disposal that they can double their salaries by playing at concerts and other like entertainments.

Did you ever see 12 numbers of the REVIEW bound? They make a magnificent present.
